

...is produced by the Aviation Preservation Society of Scotland.

APSS organises the volunteer assistance of its members to the Museum of Flight, and conducts some restoration work of its own at the Museum. It has about 120 members, of whom 30 are active at the museum. The APSS is registered in Scotland as a Charity, SC033307

The APSS is independent of the Museum of Flight and this publication does not reflect the policies or opinion of the museum. Similarly, opinions expressed in Fortune Teller are not necessarily those of the Editor, or the Society.

Comments, ideas, draft articles for publication, etc., are welcome and should be sent to the Editor at :

Aviation Preservation Society of Scotland,
c/o Museum of Flight,
East Fortune Airfield,
North Berwick,
East Lothian,
EH39 5LF

Or

fortuneteller@apss.org.uk

APSS Membership enquiries should be made to the Membership Secretary at the above address. Our Web site is:

www.apss.org.uk

This journal is for private circulation and is not for sale. While care is taken concerning copyright and no rights are claimed by the APSS, if you have a concern please contact the Editor.

Contents

Issue 14, Winter 2004/5

Chairman's Chat.....2

Bob Wilson3

I Should Warn You4

1941 RAF Handbooks7

Modelling Drone Hill8

The Single Sleeve Valve Engine10

Slingsby T53 Progress.....14

Lancaster ED88815

Indigenous Aussies, No.115

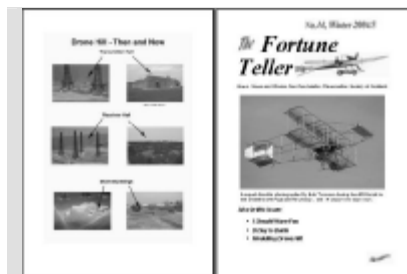

Lancaster Radio Update18

A Grand Two Days Out19

D-Day to Berlin.....20

Indigenous Aussies, No.2.....25

A Chipmunk's Tale.....27

Rear Cover
See Page 8

Front Cover
See page 19